

Local Women To Be Delegates To Theta Sessions

When the 46th Grand Convention of Kappa Alpha Theta convenes June 15 at Banff, Alberta, Canada, several members from Greencastle will be in attendance.

Mrs. Richard Kelly, president of Greencastle's alumnae group, will be a delegate. Mrs. Joe McCord will also be attending. Miss Judy Samuel, Effingham, Illinois, president of the active chapter at DePauw; and Miss Brenda McCutchan, Lebanon, vice-president will be attending as delegates from the active chapter.

The theme of this year's convention, from "Ideals" to "Action in Fraternity," will be carried out through workshop sessions, and speeches. There will also be time to enjoy the scenic grandeur of this beautiful spot in the Canadian Rockies.

College Thetas and alumnae members have worked together for the good of others through three philanthropies. The sorority's major philanthropy since 1946 has been the Institute of Logopedics in Wichita, Kansas. To this center come children from all over the world for occupational therapy, and for help in speech correction. Almost three per cent are being returned to society with communication established.

Participation in the Foster Parents' Plan is a second facet of Kappa Alpha Theta's philanthropy. Currently 18 foreign children are being helped by the sorority.

The third phase of the sorority's help for others is the Scholarship Program. Each biennium a $2,000 fellowship is awarded; annually six or more $500 scholarships are given; and loans to undergraduates are available when needed.

All of these epitomize the ideals for which Kappa Alpha Theta was founded in 1870 here at DePauw.

Lake 'Monster' Attracts Crowd

SISTER LAKES, Mich. UPI — The "Monster" of Sister Lakes caused a mammoth traffic jam Wednesday night in southwestern Michigan.

Area residents have been on edge in recent days since reports began circulating that the "monster" is back in the area. Cass County sheriff's deputies said the presence of the mysterious creature has been reported off and on for about two years.

Mrs. John Utrup of nearby Dewey Lakes, Mich., told sheriff's deputies the beast chased her into her home Tuesday night and she said she was saved when her dogs barked and drove the "monster" away.

Mrs. Utrup said he weighed 500 pounds. Other descriptions said it was covered with black hair up to its neck and had eyes that glowed like an animal that had a light shined in its eyes.

Southern Plains Hit By Storms

By United Press International

Violent thunderstorms swept the Southern Plains today but cool winds blew into New England and Virginia to end a record-breaking heat wave.

The search for more victims of Montana's flooding rivers continued with the death toll standing officially at 28. At least 115 persons were listed as missing.

Screaming winds hurled eight cars of a speeding Missouri Pacific freight train from the tracks Wednesday night near Claffin, Kan. The cars were badly damaged and work crews struggled through the night to clear the tracks.

Pringle, Tex., was slugged with two inches of rain and golf ball-sized hailstones that damaged crops in the area.

Only the Clark Fork River was on the rise in Montana today after two days of flooding that left damage estimated at upwards of $50 million. Red Cross officials estimated that more than 6,000 persons in the state needed relief.

Maniac Invades German School

COLOGNE, Germany UPI — A maniac invaded an elementary school today, sprayed dozens of children with a home-made flamethrower and stabbed a teacher to death with a crude spear.

Police shot and captured the 42-year-old attacker after he fought past battling women teachers and screaming children to pour flames into at least four classrooms.

Police said at least 30 children and four teachers were injured and burned in the mid-morning attack on the wooden suburban school.

Walter Seifert, identified by police as the "maniac attacker," first invaded the schoolyard and shot his crude flamethrower through open windows into three classrooms, police said.

A woman teacher ran out and grabbed him. But he hurled her away and lanced her with his spear. Then Seifert ran into the building.

Local Dentist Closes Office

One of Greencastle's oldest and most respected professional men has recently announced his retirement. He is Dr. James A. Throop, Greencastle dentist for the past fifty-five years. "Doc" Throop says proudly, "I've been in the same business longer than any other man in Greencastle. Others have been in business as long, but none in the same profession for so many years." Not only has Doc been practicing dentistry in Greencastle for over half a century, he has also been in the same office at the corner of Washington and Vine throughout his career. "Yes," he reminisces, "If I multiply 350 days by fifty-five years, it turns out that I've walked up the steps to my office around 20,000 times." That too must be a record which Doc will long hold.

As a boy Doc lived in Carbon, Indiana. He later attended DePauw University for three years and then earned his D.D.S. from what is now Indiana University Medical Center in Indianapolis. Doc was the youngest man in his class at dental school. "In fact I had to get a permit to practice the first few months, because I was too young to get my license. There were three other dentists here when I came to town, but they and a lot of others have come and gone long since."

When asked about the changes made in his profession through the years he commented, "Well, when I began practice we used the old foot-powered drills and lathes. You had to pump them like an organ."

Then electric drills came along and made things a lot easier and faster. But I still think the pedal type did a better job. We also used to pull a lot more in the early days, because filling wasn't very effective. If a patient came in with a bad toothache, we pulled it."

"The biggest single improvement over the years has been in impression making. At first we heated up beeswax to make it pliable. It was okay but the impression didn't hold very well. Then we used plaster of Paris which was a little better. The trouble with it though was expansion and contraction. If the mold was too thick it would expand and the plate would be too big; if it was too thin it would shrink and make the plate too small. Finally they came along with a plastic cream, a pliable but firm mold. It makes a pretty accurate impression."

Doc also recalls, "Saturday was always the big day for customers in the early years. That was the only time the country folks came to town. I'd have fifteen or twenty patients waiting."

GOP Governors Lacking In Zest

CLEVELAND UPI — Most Republican governors, demoralized by political developments at the annual Governors' Conference, had little zest today for the 1964 election campaign.

Unlike the prospective majority of delegates to the GOP National Convention next month, only a minority of the 16 Republican governors want Sen. Barry Goldwater nominated for the presidency.

They knew even before they heard from former Vice President Richard M. Nixon that the conference this week offered the last chance to organize formidable competition for the Arizona senator.

Twelve years ago at their Houston meeting, the astute Thomas E. Dewey of New York lined up most Republican governors in a tactical move which led to the defeat of Sen. Robert A. Taft's bid for presidential nomination.

There was no Dewey on the scene this year and no candidate with the stature of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, who won the nomination from Taft at the 1952 convention.

In 1964, four years after his two terms in the White House, Eisenhower seemed to be marching up the hill twice within a month against Goldwater only to march down again.

Senate Leaders Pressing Passage Of Civil Rights

Loveless Speaks At Rotary Club

Dr. James Loveless, DePauw Athletic Director, was the speaker at the Rotary Club luncheon Wednesday and gave an informative talk on the NCAA tennis tournament being held for the first time in Greencastle.

The opening round started Wednesday morning on the university's new courts at Blackstock Stadium. Dr. Loveless commented on remarks by the coaches and players that the new courts were the finest in the country.

Players participating in the tourney are from 400 universities and colleges in the West and Middle West. The final round of the tournament will be held Saturday.

Last evening, DePauw was host to the All-American Tennis Awards banquet.

Visitors at the luncheon were Lt. Col. Joseph J. Pickett, United States Air Force, guest of Howard Williams; Owen Effner, guest of John Stiffer, and Albert Bagby, guest of Dr. Laurel Turk.

Negroes Protest In Two Cities

By United Press International

Civil rights demonstrators vowed to go to jail today if necessary to dramatize their integration campaigns in two Deep South cities of racial violence Wednesday night.

Negro leader Martin Luther King Jr. told a cheering crowd of Negroes in St. Augustine, Fla., where whites hurled rocks at Negroes and police Wednesday night, that he would attempt to eat today in a segregated restaurant.

"If we have to go to jail," King told 400 cheering Negroes "we are going."

One of King's top aides, the Rev. James Bevel, told Negroes at Tuscaloosa, Ala., where police and Negroes battled Tuesday, "We must keep marching."

Bevel told a mass meeting of Negroes to meet at a Tuscaloosa church today and be prepared to go to jail.

"Bring your toothbrush and bring your towel," Bevel told the shouting crowd.

King's current campaign in St. Augustine has produced violence the past two nights.

In the latest outbreak about 12 persons were injured and another nine arrested. A Negro was shot and wounded while driving home from the demonstration.

Wheat Crop Drops

WASHINGTON UPI — The Agriculture Department Wednesday estimates Indiana's 1964 winter wheat production at 52,060,000 bushels, a drop of more than two million bushels from the 1963 crop.

The June 1 estimate showed no change from the crop estimate for the state issued May 1.

Indiana ranked sixth in the nation in winter wheat production last year and, according to the June 1 forecast, will occupy the same spot this year.

The dining room is fully air conditioned and public is urged to attend, inspect the premises and enjoy a good meal for the benefit of the league.

WASHINGTON UPI — The Senate, operating under unaccustomed debate limits imposed by a historic cloture vote, pressed ahead today with a drive for passage of the civil rights bill within the next two weeks.

Senate leaders scheduled a 10 a.m. E.O.T. session and planned wholesale consideration of the hundreds of proposed amendments to the sweeping measure. Senate Democratic Whip Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., predicted there would be 10 or 12 votes during the day.

In a moment of high drama, the state voted 71 to 29 Wednesday to halt the southern filibuster against the bill — 75 days and nearly 9 million words after the far-ranging measure was first taken up.

President Johnson, who was credited by the southerners with a principal role in fashioning the cloture victory, said, "We are closing ahead in our country to bring an end to poverty and racial injustice. We moved closer when we approved cloture in the Senate."

But the cloture vote did not mean the end of the rights battle. Final passage of the bill in the Senate and the House is still to come.

Humphrey said the final vote probably would come late next week — "if we're lucky." Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, Ill., agreed that about two weeks would be required.

Once again the bill's southern opponents held the key to when final action would be taken on the measure, though they held no hope for victory and little for easing the defeat.

Their leader, Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., promised a fight "to the bitter end," but he conceded that chances of pushing through any significant amendments to the bill were slim.

"WALK OR WAIT?"

Approximately four months ago the state of Indiana blessed Greencastle citizens with a system of pedestrian signals which were installed around the square. We repeat—that was four months ago. However if you look for these signals the next time you are downtown, you should soon discover that they are still hidden like some new secret weapon behind a veil of burlap sacks. It would appear that by this time—four months later—the veil of secrecy could be lifted and the citizens of Greencastle should be let in on the secret. To go even further the state might finally connect these signals for public use. Or is there still some reason why this cannot be done?

Measles Cases Are Continuing

INDIANAPOLIS UPI—The measles plague kept up its abnormal pace in Indiana last week.

Indiana State Board of Health's weekly morbidity report showed 422 cases of German measles and 372 cases of rubeola reported during the week compared with 575 and 357 cases the last preceding week.

The latest cases ran the incidence for 1964 to 16,356 cases of both types of measles compared with 3,747 a year ago.

Of the 22 diseases listed on the weekly morbidity report, only polio and diphtheria have not a single case recorded for the first 23 weeks of the year. A year ago, 2 polio and 3 diphtheria cases had been recorded by this date.

C B BULLETIN

Investing in a CB Radio is similar to buying a TV. There are 25 to 30 manufacturers at present with each producing numerous models varying in price range from $65 and up. The same is true for antennas (base or mobile) except the price starts lower. All radios and antennas must conform to FCC specifications.

In CB Radio you may have a base and one or more mobile units. A base station is the unit located at your home, shop or place of business as your base of operations. Your base station will have a greater operating range due to a higher and larger antenna which gives much better reception and transmission of your signal. The range of your base station will vary greatly depending upon the type of antenna, sensitivity of equipment and local land conditions. The FCC (Federal Communications Commission) regulates the maximum amount of power allowed each transmitter.

Mobile units are the radios used in cars, boats or airplanes. The unit chosen for the mobile should be rugged, compact and simple to operate. Nearly all sets will work on either DC or AC current. The range of a mobile unit is much less than that of a base station.

On several occasions CB'ers have been helpful in getting into people involved in auto accidents on the highways. In many cases aid was summoned in much less time than normal simply by a mobile unit calling the nearest base station and in most cases the information was passed along through the telephone to the police as well as ambulance and tow service if needed. Also a mobile unit is quite valuable if they happen to see something going on that isn't normal such as robbery, or other violations because of the fact that they do not have to find the nearest telephone which by that time it is usually too late.

We have touched lightly on CB Radio and some of its various uses. We hope that this article will not only inform the non CB'er but also hope to include items later on that will interest the CB'er also. We hope you will find our articles interesting enough to watch for the next one.

We invite any questions you might wish to ask and will answer them in the column in the near future.

Pay Raises For Federal Workers

WASHINGTON UPI—Backers of a $533 million federal pay raise bill predicted today that the House would approve the measure, despite the inclusion of a section which would give congressmen a $7,500 salary hike.

On March 12, the House rejected, 222 to 184, a $643 million measure which would have provided new pay scales for all three branches of government.

Included at that time was a $10,000-a-year raise for senators and House members who now receive $22,500 annually. Many members are firmly convinced that they deserve a raise, their first since 1955, but they fear that convincing their constituents of this in an election year would be a difficult task.

ing in my office when I came in. Of course I could only treat four or five a day then. I once charged only $.50 for an extraction and now it costs around $.60. Yes, there have been a lot of changes."

Doc is still in good health and is blessed with a fine sense of humor. He laughingly tells of an incident that occurred in his office many years ago, "A male patient was sitting in my old reclining swivel chair when he suddenly leaned back too far and overturned. When he hit the floor I heard a loud crunch. I rushed over and found that he had broken his flask of whiskey in his hip pocket. I called a doctor to patch up the fellow's seat and everything turned out okay. The cut didn't even get sore; you see, whiskey was as good a disinfectant as we had in those days."

In addition to his long career in dentistry, Doc has been a strong family man. He and Mrs. Throop have two daughters, Mrs. Bernard Kilgore of Princeton, New Jersey, and Mrs. Ralph Segebarth of Columbus, Indiana. They also have six grandchildren. Doc's son-in-law, Bernard Kilgore, is editor of the Wall Street Journal.

As for the future Doc says he just plans to fish and hunt. "Although I haven't hunted much in recent years, I still enjoy fishing a great deal. I hope to spend some time saltwater fishing in Florida."

Doc repeatedly emphasized, "I don't want this story to sound like I'm bragging. I just wanted an my patients to know that I'm retiring and to thank them for the business they have given me." But this reporter would like to return the favor and say for the people of our community, "Thank you Doc Throop for your long years of service to our community."

Voted Against Filibuster Gag

WASHINGTON UPI—Sen. Barry M. Goldwater's vote against curbing the civil rights filibuster left strategists in both parties pondering today over who would be helped or hurt in November if he is the GOP presidential nominee.

Few saw it the same way. Republicans, faced with the growing likelihood of the Arizona senator's nomination, the party platform being more important than his past votes. And they hopefully pointed out that a vote against cloture could be offset by a vote for the civil rights bill in the final showdown.

Some Democrats felt it didn't make much difference because Goldwater's position was long known. But they regarded his vote against cloture as one more boost for their hopes in heavily populated northern states where civil rights is a major issue.

Although Goldwater's vote was interpreted in some circles as merely a bid to cement his southern base, he took the same stand as his senior colleague, 87-year-old Sen. Carl Hayden, D-Ariz., Senate president pro tem.

They didn't vote without precedent. Arizona senators and many others from the less populated West — have voted historically against cloture on the ground that free debate is the last defense of the small states. Arizona is particularly attuned because its admission to the union was tied in with a filibuster that was finally broken by ultimately admitting both New Mexico and Arizona.

Wildlife Meet Set For June 24

TERRE HAUTE UPI —Official sources here said the Migratory Game Bird Commission will meet June 24 in Washington to decide whether to establish a wildlife refuge in Indiana.

Two locations have been studied — one near Terre Haute in Clay and Vigo Counties, the other near North Vernon in Jackson and Jennings Counties. The commission has four alternatives: 1 establish a refuge near Terre Haute, 2 establish a refuge near North Vernon, 3 establish refuges in both areas, or 4 establish no refuge in Indiana.

The commission consists of the secretaries of interior, agriculture and commerce plus two senators and two congressmen.

Pilot Is Killed In Jet Crash

MARIETTA, Ga. UPI — An experimental vertical takeoff and landing jet plane crashed and burned killing its pilot. The plane, manufactured by Lockheed-Georgia Co., Marietta, went down about 1,000 feet from a new residential subdivision 10 miles north of here. No one on the ground was injured and there was no damage to buildings.

Identification of the pilot, a civilian, was withheld. He was flying the plane for the Army.

A company spokesman said the small twin-jet plane, called the "Hummingbird" and designated the XB-4a, had flown out of nearby Dobbins Air Force Base on a training flight.

Plan To Build New Bus Plant

RICHMOND, Ind. UPI — Officials of Divco-Wayne Corp. said the firm "will use its best bus plant in the Richmond area efforts" to build a new school and thereby retain employment opportunities for up to 800 workers.

The statement was made after Local 721 of the United Auto Workers union overwhelmingly went on a new contract which the company said included "changes covering economics and working conditions."

The international UAW committed itself to invest $300,000 toward construction of a new plant.

HEALTH CAPSULES

by Michael A. Pettit, M.D.

IF YOU HAVE AN IRREGULARITY IN YOUR HEARTBEAT, DOES THIS MEAN YOU HAVE HEART TROUBLE?

NOT NECESSARILY. SOME IRREGULARITIES ARE DUE TO BENIGN CONDITIONS SUCH AS TOO MUCH COFFEE OR NERVOUSNESS. TOMORROW: ARTHRITIS.

Health Capsules gives helpful information. It is not intended to be a diagnostic nature.

It was not spelled out specifically in the announcement, but observers interpreted the statement to imply that the company was likely to build a proposed new plant here rather than at Florence, Ky., where land was bought recently and a 25-year tax-free property situation was offered the firm.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

"You Can Get An Awful Burn"

THE SUN is beginning to reach its midday zenith, pouring its warm radiance on well-protected bodies. Soon the too-rapid disrobing process begins and the deep-fry season is well under way.

Sun worshippers, overanxious to acquire a competitive tan, overexpose themselves and often pass a few miserable, well-broiled days as a penalty for their enthusiasm.

The warnings against deliberate over-exposure must be heeded so that the delicate skin will not be injured by the burn. And sunburn is a burn not unlike the painful ones that follow scalding or fire.

Can Require Hospitalization

Fortunately, severe discomfort is usually the only consequence. But, occasionally, sunburn can be distressing enough to demand hospitalization and prolonged treatment.

The advice is easy to follow:

Start with short periods of exposure, especially to the sensitive areas of the midriff, shoulders, back, legs, and chest. The face and the neck, because of constant exposure, are less sensitive to the sun.

It is pointless to unnecessarily ruin a single day of holiday happiness by the self-infliction of painful burns.

Take Sun Gradually

Increase the exposure gradually. Do not add one burn on top of another before the skin is completely healed and no longer tender.

The adage "You can get an awful burn on a day like this" can be true of an overcast day. Penetrating ultraviolet rays of the sun can be deceptive, especially when they bounce off the sea, lakes and mountain snow. A light covering over the body, especially when wet, gives a false sense of security against the penetration of the sun's rays.

For fun in the sun, don't broil, fry or bake—just simmer gently.

SAFETY RULES FOR SWIMMING

Safety in swimming is the keynote to the maximum enjoyment of this delightful sport.

Swimming is an exercise and, like all exercises, conditioning must not be too rapid. Muscles that have been dormant all winter need a gentle breaking-in period to avoid overexertion.

Observe Rules, Have Fun

A few simple rules will make swimming a pleasurable experience:

- 1) No horse play.
- 2) Do not swim alone.
- 3) Do not swim immediately after eating. Wait at least one half hour to avoid the possibility of abdominal cramps.
- 4) Know your swimming limitations. Stay within your own safe depth.
- 5) Do not swim too far out. Remember that you will be more tired on the return trip than you were when you started fresh from shore.
- 6) Do not stay in the water long enough to be chilled and become blue.
- 7) Do not try to compete with swimmers who have more stamina and skill.

These columns are designed to relieve your fears about health through a better understanding of your mind and body. All the helpful new advances in medicine reported here are known to doctors everywhere.

Your individual medical problems should be handled by your own doctor. He knows you best.

TOW TECHNIQUE—An Army "Mule" utility vehicle is towed through the air with the greatest of ease in a demonstration in San Diego, Calif., of the Ryan Wing Air Cargo Delivery System. The vehicle is driven to a clearing, secured to a Flexible Wing, which is attached to the helicopter by cable, and towed a short distance until the wing provides enough aerodynamic lift to pick the vehicle off the ground. An automatic flare built into the wing causes an upward rotation just prior to landing, acting as brake for gentle touchdown.

Hairdressers Too?

MELTON MOWBRAY, Eng. UPI — Women's magazine editor Audrey Slaughter told a private secretaries' conference here Wednesday that their bosses should install hairdressers in their offices because "pretty, well-groomed secretaries make life so much pleasanter."

Delayed Package

BROWTHORNE, Eng. UPI

"I'm sorry," said the postman to Mrs. Maud Justice. "This package has been delayed."

Mrs. Justice looked at the date — Christmas, 1954 — and agreed. The mailman said the package had been found when the local post office was moved recently.

brought against her by police because she took a bath on-stage at the Forbidden City nightclub.

Hell Ship Is Cursed By Fire

HONOLULU UPI — The hell ship Pomona, its skipper hacked to death with an ax barely a month ago, doddered back to port today with its innards scorched by a fire that sent most of its crew adrift in lifeboats.

All but three crewmen spent five hours on lifeboats or air-dropped rafts after flames engulfed the terror-haunted ship's engine room Wednesday. The three who stayed aboard managed to control the blaze and reported later the danger was past and all hands were accounted for. A tug took the crippled ship in tow.

At least one of the lifeboats swamped immediately when put to sea by the abandoning crewmen. A coast guard plane dropped them a raft.

The Brazilian-owned freighter, a World War II vintage Liberty Ship, sailed from here Tuesday night with a Chinese crew flown from Hong Kong to replace the multi-national crew which quit after the vessel's skipper was slain with an ax and they lived in terror of his uncaught killer.

Admits Fatal Beating Of Girl

KOKOMO UPI — Authorities said today a male babysitter has admitted the fatal beating of a 5-year-old girl because she was crying "and got on my nerves."

Police said James E. Fletcher, 24, an odd-jobs handyman, has been charged with manslaughter in the death of Cheryl Lynn Johnson a week ago. The child's father, Jesse Johnson, 67, was released from custody.

Johnson was charged previously with manslaughter. He admitted paddling the child, police said, but he denied harming her.

Man Is Killed By Police Car

By United Press International

A man was killed by a police car in downtown Indianapolis today, raising Indiana's 1964 traffic fatality toll to 492 compared with 491 a year ago.

Patrolman Thomas Robbins, driver of the car, said Abraham Kirsh, 65, Indianapolis, walked in front of the vehicle. The policeman had just left roll call and was enroute to his district for duty.

Kirsh suffered a skull fracture and a broken right hip and died in General Hospital 90 minutes later.

A witness said Kirsh walked against a traffic light.

The cape, tiered, ruffled, in lace, is the prettiest covering for the decolletage wedding gown, Women's Wear Daily reports. One version is tiny enough to hide only the shoulders. Others are bolero length or down to the floor.

TENSION MOUNTS—Well informed sources have indicated that the United States 6th Fleet was moving into the eastern Mediterranean close to Cyprus at a time when the island was tense with fears of a possible Turkish invasion. The seriousness of the situation was underlined by reports that President Johnson had invited Turkish Premier Ismet Inonu, (above) to go to Washington to discuss the crisis which involves Greece and Turkey who represent the southeastern anchor of NATO defenses.

Moose Defeats Legion In Babe Ruth Action

Last evening's Babe Ruth game resulted in a 12-2 victory for the Moose over the Legion. A 7-run fifth inning changed a very close game into a near runaway for the Moose. The teams are very close and the next meeting of the teams could be a lot different so says coach Paul Smith of the Legion. Coach Bill Rader will take his victorious Moose team against the Elks tomorrow evening at 5:00.

A left hander by the name of Dee Monnett pitched and batted the Moose to victory. Dee limited the Legion to only 3 hits and struck out 12 and walked only 2. He also drove in a couple of runs with a double and a single. Shortstop Stan Brown was the games best hitter as he tripled and singled for the Moose. Larry Truesdale aided the Moose cause with a double and a single.

Other Moose hitters were Steve Bonney and Mike Custis.

Joe Boswell singled to score Bill Nanovsky who had singled and Brad Smith for the only Legion runs. Craig York also singled for the Legion. Pete Norris pitched a fine game for the Legion but seem to tire in the fateful fifth inning. The Legion will face the VFW next Monday at 5:00.

Moose had 12 runs, 8 hits, no errors, with D. Monnett and Bonney. Legion had 2 runs, 3 hits, 3 errors, with Norris and Nanovsky.

Yankees Win Tilt In Bizarre Play

BOSTON UPI — The fates have not been kind to rookie Yankee Manager Yogi Berra this season — but things are getting better.

Berra saw his team score a run after being apparently retired Wednesday night. What's more, the runner who scored carried the ball in his hand part of the way.

The bizarre play stemmed from a boner by Boston catcher Russ Nixon and the quick thinking of veteran Yankee base coach Frank Crosetti.

There were two outs and the bases empty in the Yankee eighth when the fun began. Rookie relief pitcher Pete Mikkelsen swung and missed a third strike in the dirt and Nixon tossed him the ball.

Mikkelsen started down the third base line, rubbing the ball and waiting for his glove to be brought from the dugout. The Red Sox were leaving the field and the Yankees were spreading out to their positions when Crosetti directed Mikkelsen to run.

Arkansas Raps Indians, 4 to 2

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. UPI — A battle of home runs ended in favor of Arkansas Wednesday as Len Clendenin struck out 10 Indianapolis men to lead the Travelers to their sixth Pacific Coast League victory in a row, 4-2.

Norman Gigon had a lead-off first inning circuit blast, Adolfo Phillips got one with a man on in the second and Billy Sorrell homered in the fourth to close out the home club's scoring.

Indianapolis got into the scoring columns in the sixth when Ken Berry crashed a two-run circuit.

It was the 9th win in 10 starts for the home club. Clendenin posted a win to bring his record to 4-2 and starter Jim Golden lost his fifth straight for Indianapolis.

New Reitz Coach

Evansville, UPI — Jim Barnett will take over next season as head basketball coach at Evansville Reitz High School, succeeding Bob Gilham, his former boss.

The Evansville-Vanderburgh School Board demoted Gilham Wednesday and moved Barnett up from assistant to head coach. Gilham was transferred to Harrison High as freshman basketball coach and cross country coach. Wayne Salmon was moved from Harrison to Reitz as assistant basketball and cross country coach.

Predicts 150 Mile Speed For '500' Oval

INDIANAPOLIS UPI — The director of competition for the United States Auto Club predicted today Speedway cars will still drive in the 150 miles per hour bracket-even with an engine size reduction of about 25 per cent.

USAC's rules committee made the recommendation at a meeting Tuesday and there was speculation that the change will be adopted in September — effective in 1967.

It would also limit cars on the American championship circuit to the international Grand Prix formula that goes into effect in 1966.

"The recommendation to reduce the engine size is a very good one," said Henry Banks, himself a former race driver and national champion. Performance-wise, he added, the smaller cars should be equal to the larger machines, "but we will be able to curtail some of the excess speed."

One car, driven by Bobby Marshman, unofficially hit 160 m.p.h. in practice at the Speedway last month, and several other drivers were only little more than an eyelash slower.

But with the exception of the Memorial Day 500-mile race in which two drivers were burned to death in a flaming collision, Banks pointed out the entire month of May was one of the safest in years.

"We feel a slight reduction in speed is a step in the right direction from a safety standpoint," Banks said. "It should result in more international competition and will encourage the development of new engines."

"We also feel confident that Ford and possibly Chrysler will come up with 3 liter engines," he added.

Fair Sex Busy At Windy Hill

Twenty-seven ladies turned out for golf on Tuesday morning. Dama Crosby served coffee and rolls before the Gangsome tournament.

The winning team with a score of 37 consisted of Betty Harmless, Vicki Terry, Gladys Wood and Betty Thompson. In second place with a score of 38 were Jane Hughes, Zelma Hunter, Tibby Eitel and Dama Crosby. Low gross among the D. players went to Betty Ellis with a score of 61.

The ladies of Windy Hill will entertain the ladies of the Martinsville Country Club and other guests on June 16th.

On June 18th, Windy Hill lady golfers are invited to an Invitational 18 hole Tournament at Crawfordsville Country Club. Danville ladies are entertaining the ladies of Windy Hill on June 23.

Girl's Softball Notice

The Greencastle Girls' Softball team will play the "Eureka Clown" of Danville, Illinois, this Saturday evening at Robe Ann Park.

Playing time is 7:00 p.m.

Morey Reaches Fifth Round

GANTON, England UPI — Dale Morey, the former Hoosier golf ace, reached the fifth round of the British Amateur tournament today with a 2 and 1 victory over British Walker Cupper Mike Bonallack.

Morey holed a 25-foot wedge shot on No. 17 for a birdie deuce to ice the triumph, which was sweet revenge for a loss to Bonallack at Pebble Beach, Calif., three years ago.

Morey complained he couldn't sink a long putt all day, but his wedge on the 17th hole turned the tide and advanced him to an afternoon match against Gordon Clark of England.

Still In Tourney

GANTON, England UPI — Jack Thornton was supposed to be heading for his home in Rochester, N. Y., today to attend his son John's 10th birthday. He won't make it.

The 44-year-old manufacturer representative had a date to meet England's Dick Carroll in the fourth round of the British Amateur golf championship this morning.

Turns Pro

ST. LOUIS UPI — Connie Robinson, 22, who was runner-up in the 1964 Trans-Mississippi golf tournament, has turned professional and will make her pro debut in the Women's United States Golf Association Open in the San Diego, Calif., July 9.

Rain Interrupts

OMAHA, Neb. UPI — The rain — plagued World Series of collegiate baseball was to make another stab today at finishing a round without interruption from the heavens.

Only one second-round game-with Seton Hall eliminating Texas A&M, 14-5 — was played Wednesday before a steady shower arrived to make the farmers happy and the ball players angry.

Longest Course

GRAND BLANC, Mich. UPI — They blasted off in the Buick Open golf championship today with indications that it would be a sound barometer for next week's coveted U. S. Open. Warwick Hills Golf Club, over which favored Mike Souhak and Tony Lema lead a field of 149 pros and 10 amateurs, is the longest course the pros have played this year.

Upset Features Second Day Of NCAA Meet

Southern Illinois' Bob Sprengelmeyer, undefeated all season in singles, threw the NCAA seed book off the court this morning and disposed of second ranked Lee Reid of Santa Barbara in the first big form reversal of DePauw's national tennis tourney.

While the wiry slugger from Dubuque advanced to the final eight by upsetting the fiery Californian, his brother, Roy, sixth seeded, was embattled in a three-setter with Larry Malin of San Fernando State College.

Tomorrow morning's quarter-final singles match between the first and eighth seeds may be the tourney's most anti-septic. It will be Johnson and Johnson for the right to advance to the coveted final four.

Gary Johnson, seeded number one, heads Los Angeles State's bid for the singles title, and Dick Johnson is holding on for Kalamazoo College.

John Yeomans, who beat John Allgood of Long Beach State today, 6-1, 6-3, will face the winner of the marathon Malin-Sprengelmeyer (Roy) tussle.

"Pancho" Castillo, Southern Illinois' cat-like number two man, shoved LA State's Joe Huey out of the tourney this morning, 6-2, 6-3. He will face the winner of the Axtell (Idaho)-Zalinski (DePaul) match.

All-American Dennis Benne-ma, Wheaton, was forced to three sets before he whipped Jim Cowen, Los Angeles, 6-1, 3-6, 7-5, in a near upset. The victory places Benne-ma opposite all-American Bob Sprengelmeyer in what should be an explosive and important round tomorrow at 9 a.m.

DePauw's Bruce Voorheis and Kim Wincup were beaten yesterday in singles competition.

Ren Werrenrath, DePauw's final hope, lost yesterday afternoon to third-seeded John Yeomans, Redlands, 6-2, 6-4. The Wincup-Werrenrath doubles team played today.

The schedule for the remainder of the tourney are as follows:

Singles (fourth round-final eight) 9 a.m., tomorrow.

Singles (semi-finals-final four) Friday, afternoon.

Doubles (fourth round-final eight) Friday, afternoon.

Doubles (semi-finals-final four) 9 a.m., Saturday.

Singles-Doubles Championships, Saturday, afternoon.

Tip To Pitchers

DETROIT UPI — Attention American League pitchers:

When facing Tony Oliva, throw the ball high and hard—preferably over the inside corner of the plate.

That's what pitchers on the Detroit Tigers are doing nowadays with astounding success.

Short Answers

By United Press International
Gene Mauch is giving everyone short answers these days when he's questioned about the Philadelphia Phillies' success so far.

Don't go away with the wrong idea. The young, amiable Philadelphia manager is anything but a grouch. Nor is he getting a little edgy because the Phils are within four percentage points of first place.

Those short answers of his all revolve around southpaw Chris Short, who took a long time to get started last year but certainly isn't dragging his heels this year.

Bill Hoyt, rear, and Bill Schoen, Redlands University duo, appear puzzled momentarily as they wait for one of their unseen opponents, Steve Zalinski and Bob Riggs, DePaul of Chicago, to connect with Schoen's smash. The California twosome won the match yesterday, 6-3, 6-1, and advanced to meet Kalamazoo's Dick Johnson and George Smillie today.

While heated action unfolds on the courts, fans sit comfortably in the shade of the towering trees that preside over the NCAA tennis tournament now in session at DePauw University. Twenty-nine matches were decided on the seven-court layout yesterday as the field in singles was cut from 42 to 16. Tonight only eight players remain in singles. Doubles competition has been sliced to eight teams.

Reds Capture Vital Outpost

VIENTIANE, Laos UPI — Communist Pathet Lao forces today were reported to have captured the important government outpost at Muong Kheung, scattering the 1,500 neutralist troops into surrounding hills.

Reports of the new Communist victory came as U.S. Ambassador Leonard Unger and Laotian officials considered whether to continue American reconnaissance flights over Pathet Lao positions on the Plaine des Jarres.

Official sources in Washington said the U.S. flights, which resulted in two downed American jets last weekend, had been suspended and probably would not be resumed until Unger and neutralist Premier Souvanna Phouma reassess the situation in Laos.

Muong Kheung is in the battle area which has been surveyed by the U.S. photographic planes since May 21. Souvanna requested the flights to determine the disposition and movement of Pathet Lao and Red North Vietnamese troops which had routed his forces from the Plaine des Jarres.

Public Works Bill Approved

WASHINGTON UPI — The House Appropriations Committee approved a $4.3 billion public works bill today. It said it cut budget requests by $45 million.

But the bill committed taxpayers to unbudgeted projects which in the end may cost many times the claimed savings.

The committee's own figures showed it added almost $30 million to the so-called "pork barrel" sections of the bill. The President's budget earmarked $1,149,364,000 to finance the Army Engineers' work on rivers, harbors, and flood control projects. The committee boosted this to $1,178,308,200. It also raised the $317,750,000 request for the Reclamation Bureau to $318,013,000.

The Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) bore the brunt of the committee's economies in the big money bill. The administration's $2,323,000,000 request for the AEC was cut by $68,927,000.

The President's budget called for funds to continue work on scores of existing rivers and harbors and reclamation projects and recommended 41 new construction starts.

High And Low

NEW YORK UPI — The highest temperature reported to the U.S. Weather Bureau Wednesday, excluding Alaska and Hawaii, was 106 at Presidio, Tex. The lowest reported this morning was 32 at Marquette County Airport and Traverse City, Mich.

Traffic Victim

COLUMBUS UPI — Word of the death of Army Sp/4 David W. Schleuser, 24, in a traffic accident in Spain was received Wednesday by the Lester Schleusers of Columbus.

Schleuser had been stationed with an armored division of the U.S. Army in Germany. He was on leave at the time of the accident and had been traveling through Italy and Switzerland.

Lots Of Water

LONDON UPI — An average of 880 pounds of waste paper piles up in the House of Commons each day, officials said today.

Cops Embarrassed

RENO, Nev. UPI — Embarrassed police reported Wednesday that a thief stole a shotgun from a police car which was parked in a lot at the police station.

Tall Fence Needs Delicate Design

Tall privacy fence can be a mighty handsome addition to the yard when the design is delicate. Board-on-board pattern is a favorite, produces ever-changing shadow lines. Desert sand shade on western red cedar 1x6 boards makes a good backdrop for plant materials.

Probably the biggest cost of a home, proportionately, is the land itself. And with land costs and taxes still rising everywhere, homeowners are smart to see that every inch of ground around the house is put to full use.

For that very reason, the tall back yard fence is fast becoming an accepted institution. Privacy must be assured if the yard is to become a livable part of the home, and the tall fence is the way to do it.

Crisp, clean lines and a dimensional look are needed for the high fence. One excellent pattern is the board-on-board. It is easily built and rates high in appearance. It is also a pattern which complements a home of either traditional or contemporary styling.

To build the board-on-board fence, 1x4 or 1x6 inch boards are nailed vertically on alternating sides of the framework so the edges overlap about one inch. The result is three-dimensional and solid in appearance, but allows good air circulation — an important factor. Framing for the fence calls for 4x4 inch posts and 2x4 rails. A cap board of 2x6 inch material gives a trim finish.

Western red cedar lumber or Douglas fir would be recommended for such outdoor use as fencing, and both take paint and stain finishes well. The tall fence needs a delicate touch color-wise. A natural wood shade, a soft desert sand color, and the silvery shade of weathered wood are the best bets.

Clean white is also attractive, but does produce glare.

Choice of resawn or smooth surfaced wood for the fence depends on the house siding. A house sided in textured resawn wood demands fencing of the same texture. Painted, smooth surfaced siding looks best teamed with smooth fencing, though colors need not match.

Along the base of the fence, a strip of land should be reserved for a planting bed, no matter what structures and plant materials are used in the rest of the yard layout. A variety of shrubs will soften the junction between fence base and land and serve to blend the fence into the general landscaping plan. Use of a few tall plants and perhaps a climber or two also effectively reduces the height of the fence.
